Online Tutoring

As an online economics tutor, i involves teaching economic concepts, guiding students through lessons, and helping them understand complex topics like supply and demand, market structures, and fiscal policies. I prepare lesson plans, assess student progress, and provide personalized feedback.i Using online tools, engage students through interactive lessons, real-world examples, and activities. My goal is to foster a deep understanding of economics, encourage critical thinking, and adapt my teaching style to individual learning needs. Additionally, i support students by answering questions, offering guidance, and monitoring their academic progress.
